11 ADJECTIVES.

You have come down into 1894 as one of the few persons who have not yet taken advantage of the low prices on Architectural Bedsteads, and hence do not know the blessings of a light, clean, beautiful bed.

Time was once when the price of a Brass Bedstead made it almost prohibitive; but within a year has come the advent of these architectural frames of decorative iron, finished in enamelled ivory white, and completely mounted in burnished brass.

It makes a beautiful bedstead. Run over the eleven adjectives that describe it — light, strong, tubular, ventilated, neat, clean, portable, convenient, beautiful, enduring, low-priced.

General Catalogue, square octavo, 288 pp., 300 illustrations. Sent on receipt of five 2-cent stamps.

When an article has been sold for 23 years, and its sales have increased each year, in spite of competition and cheap imitations, it must have superior quality and absolute uniformity and purity. Dobbins' Electric Soap has been constantly made and sold since 1869, more each year. Can the sale of an inferior article constantly increase for 23 years? This soap is today as ever, the best, the purest, family soap made. It contains no adulteration of any kind, and is intrinsically the cheapest soap made because it will go so far, and do such perfect work. Ask your grocer for it.

A Manual of Practical Sociology.

An Introduction to the Study of DEPENDENT, DEFECTIVE and DELINQUENT CLASSES. By Charles R. Henderson, D.D., of the University of Chicago.

In a field too vast for any one mind to master, this book offers a systematic and reasoned collection of the results of studies and experiences of authorities. The author has had twenty years of almost daily practical experience with the classes to which the book refers, in his work as pastor, and as director of parish, institutional and governmental agencies.

Charles D. Kellogg, Secretary of "Charity Organization Society," New York City, writes: "It is the most logical and systematic treatment of the subjects discussed that I have seen, and the book is analyzed in such a way as to make it easy of study. It will be an immensely useful book, and I hope to have many of our workers supplied with it."

"The Review of Reviews," New York: "We do not know of any other American book which covers in an abler or more thorough manner the particular field to which this one is devoted."

Public Opinion Current Topic Association.

"Study Current Events in the Light of History."

THE OBJECT of the PUBLIC OPINION CURRENT TOPIC ASSOCIATION is to promote the systematic study of the great questions of the day, and by increasing the interest in current happenings, to inculcate a broader view of the privileges and duties of citizenship.

THE PLAN embodies the formation of clubs, with general details similar to those suggested in the book mentioned below, whose basis of work shall be the systematic reading of PUBLIC OPINION and other periodical publications and the further inquiry stimulated by such reading. Debates and special papers are optional.

THE DETAILS are fully outlined in an elaborate thirty-two page book which will be sent to any address for six cents in stamps.

In his Introductory Preface, Dr. Wm. T. Harris, U. S. Commissioner of Education, says:

"I am a constant reader of PUBLIC OPINION, and find it eminently adapted to the place of a text-book for classes in current topics in schools and colleges. I have frequent occasion to admire the skill with which the editors collect and present phases of thought and opinion. PUBLIC OPINION re-edits the editorials of the press of the world in such a way as to furnish the reading public with exactly what I have described as the ideal object of the newspaper. In view of all these facts I heartily commend the PUBLIC OPINION CURRENT TOPIC ASSOCIATION to thoughtful people everywhere."

Cardinal Gibbons says:

"I cordially approve of your project. Nihil humanum a me alienum puto was the noble expression of a great Roman. Rome's greatness was largely due to the interest of her statesmen in public affairs. Our country will also gain in power and progress in proportion as her most cultivated citizens will discuss and lead public opinion."
